Reaching The

All of us who enter Santa Cruz embark on a four-year mountain climb. We have as our guides, teachers; as tools, books and our minds.

This journey is only one of several we will undertake in order to reach our goal, that of a better education—a better life. Although a small one, it is one more step toward our destination—one of great significance. For it is one which prepares us to scale higher summits in life.

As we start at the base and gaze at our goal towering above us, we sometimes feel doubts and fears. They gradually vanish as we take a firmer foothold and push upward, adjusting to new heights.

While ascending to the peak, we gain knowledge, form new friendships, acquire skills, and become physically strong.

We come to the end of our venture, anticipating many more. We cherish the treasures we have garnered, and we know that reaching the pinnacle of Santa Cruz has been rewarding.

In helping students to reach the pinnacle we must remember that if an individual is treated as he is, he will stay as he is, but if we treat him as if he were what he ought to be and could be, he will become what he ought to be and could be.

Do you recall those days when we were at the base, when we were Freshmen? That was the year we made all the mistakes typical of freshmen. It was also the year we left with great relief to become Sophomores.

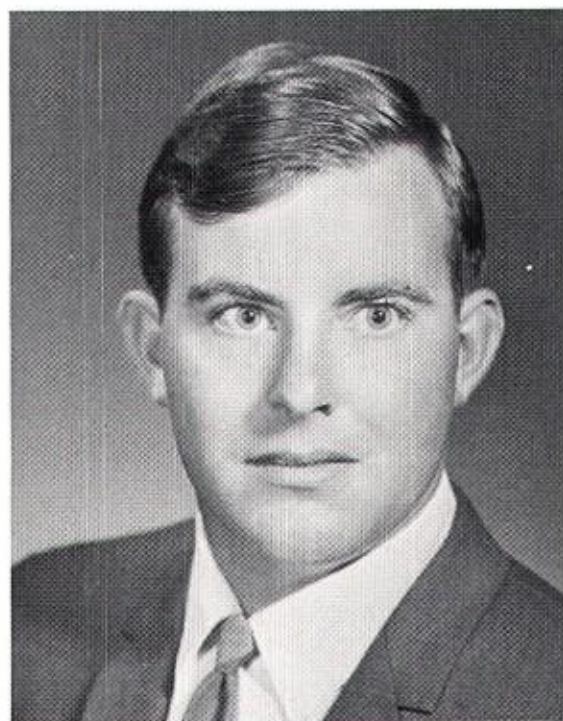

As Sophomores we hosted a successful Sophomore-Freshmen Mixer, took Differential Aptitude Tests, and proudly witnessed the initiation of ten of our classmates into National Honor Society.

Then we entered our Junior year and accelerated our pace in activities. We experienced hectic times in the concession stand, staged the play, "The Curious Savage", purchased class rings, and held the Senior-Junior Prom exotically entitled "Oriental Gardens."

As Seniors, we have reached another cherished goal. Our leaders are Glenn Legate, president; Harvey Davison, vice-president; Janice Waddle, secretary-treasurer; Olga Jaquez, girl representative; and Michael Delgado, boy representative.

We took ACT tests, considered military careers, applied for scholarships, and made our choice of colleges or trade schools.

We have completed our high school journey and prepared for new horizons. We chose a most appropriate motto, "We have followed, now we lead" which will guide us toward the top.

Girl of the Year

VIRGINIA ESCALANTE

Virginia earned the honor of being named Girl of the Year by the faculty. Selection of this award is made on the basis of scholarship, participation in school activities and citizenship. She has served her school well as a diligent worker both in classes and in activities such as National Honor Society, Girls State, Pep Club and especially Journalism where she was editor of both the Whirlwind and Devils Call.

Boy of the Year

JIMMIE HUIE

Jimmie gained recognition as Boy of the Year for his scholastic ability and sincere effort to achieve a given goal. He is an active member of the Student Council, attended Boys State and is Vice President of the National Honor Society. Jimmie is business manager of the Whirlwind and is a member of the newspaper staff, Library and Spanish clubs. He has maintained perfect attendance in high school.

Distinguished Students Named

VIRGINIA ESCALANTE
Girls' Stater

Virginia Escalante's comments on Girls' State were, "We gained a wider knowledge of our government; we gained a greater feeling of patriotism; we gained the friendship of over 200 girls; and we gained weight!"

Santa Cruz representatives to Girls' State held last June 12-18 at the University of Arizona at Tucson were sponsored by the Eloy Business and Professional Women's Club.

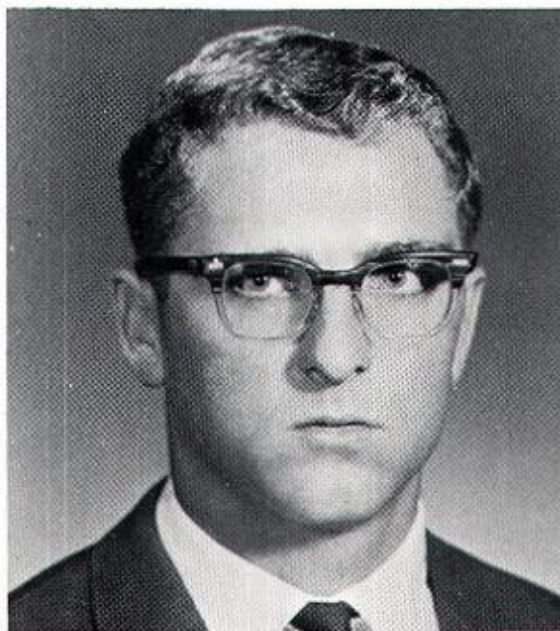

LUPE ROSALES
Alternate

OLGA JAQUEZ
Girls' Stater

Olga Jaquez related that "At Girls' State one understands the workings of our democratic government and realizes the numerous responsibilities one must assume as an adult."

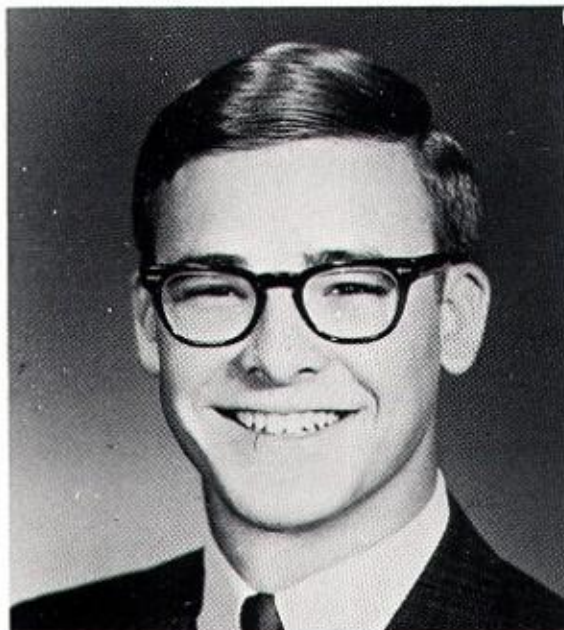

Frank Awbrey gave his views on Boys' State: "Boys' State gives a person a sense of independence and authority. It instills citizenship and initiative and gives a basic concept of our working government."

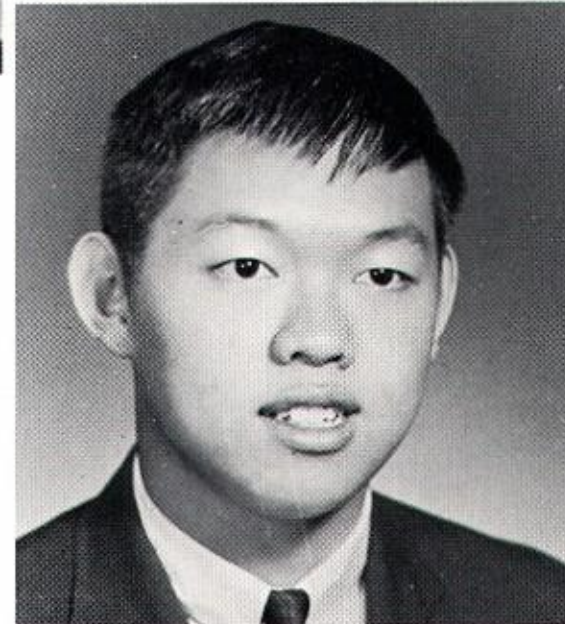

STEVE SIMPSON
Alternate

Boys' Staters were sponsored by the Lions Club and the Eagles. Boys State was held in Flagstaff on the Northern University of Arizona campus, June 11-17.

Jim Huie felt that "Boys' State was an exhilarating experience in the processes and function of democracy. Boys' State revealed to me that I knew little of the actual democratic procedures of our government."

Margaret Garcia, junior, was selected for her beauty to represent the Lettermen's Club this year. Her official title is LETTERMEN'S SWEETHEART.

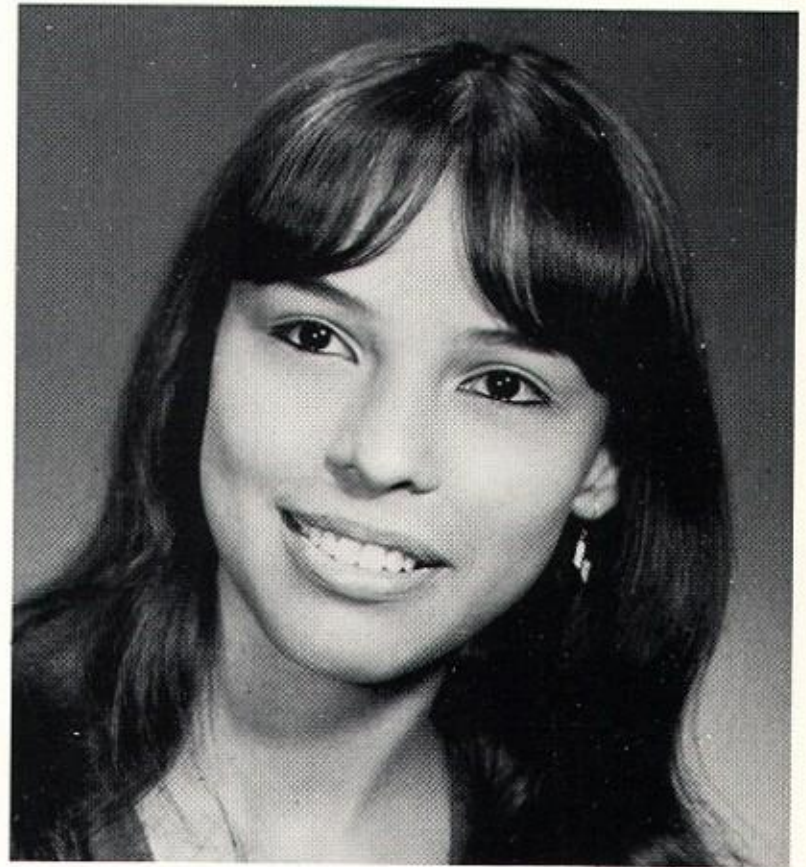

Recipient of the DAUGHTERS OF AMERICAN REVOLUTION AWARD for 1968 was Olga Jaquez, senior. The faculty chose Olga for her outstanding qualities—dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

Lynette Wootan—FFA SWEETHEART

Salvador Gandara—GAA HONEY

Serving as party hostess and keeper of the FFA scrapbook are just two of the duties Lynette Wootan performs as FFA SWEETHEART. Lynette, a junior, was elected Sweetheart for Eloy Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Salvador Gandara, senior, knows how it feels to be the idol of the female population at S.C. Sal was honored at a dance by the Girl's Athletic Association who elected him 1968 GAA HONEY.

National Honor Society initiates pledge themselves to uphold its high principles.

Santos Garza receives her membership certificate and hearty congratulations from Mr. Berryhill.

National Honor Society, an honorary organization is based on four principles—Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. Its function at S.C. is the annual initiation of those who meet its high requirements.

Student Council Rated Most Ambitious

Student Council members devote much time and concentration to technicalities involved in revising the schools constitution.

The Student Council attained better representation for the student body with a revision of the Santa Cruz Valley Union High School Constitution. Aside from this major project, the Council also sponsored the Homecoming bonfire and dance, managed elections; and were active in helping coordinate other student activities on campus.

One of the Council's many services was printing programs for athletic activities. Cathy Hawse and Lynniss Lebbs smooth out the wrinkles on a program stencil.

Willie Jimenez and Ben Malone pose to give the photographer a bit of cheesecake!

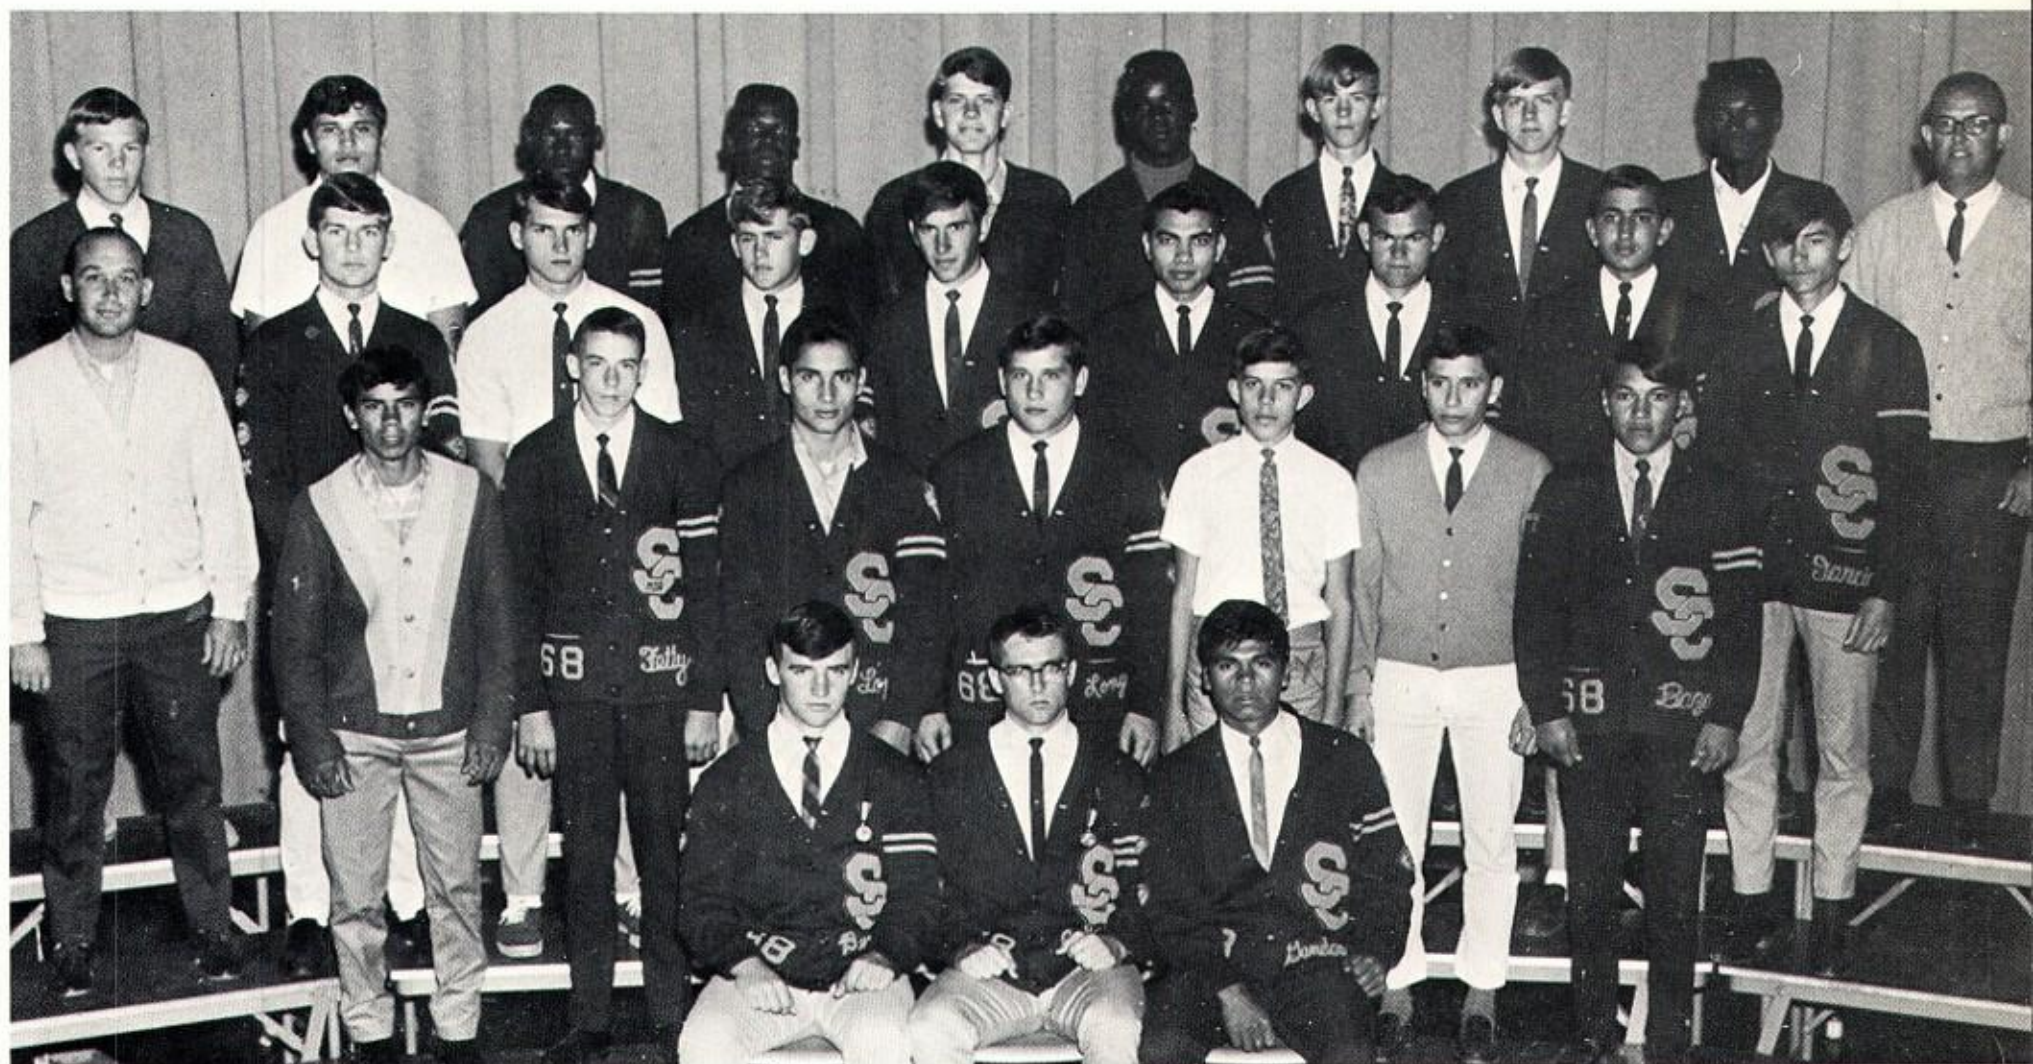

Lettermen Execute Excellent Sportsmanship

It is an honor and privilege to be a member of the S.C. Lettermen's Club. These students represent the best in teamwork, sportsmanship, and physical fitness. To be a member of this club, a student must have participated in either 12 quarters of football, 15 quarters of basketball, 21 innings of baseball, or who have earned 12 points in track. These requirements give the boys an incentive to work hard and come out on top in all sports. The club's most extensive drive is raising money for the jackets awarded to lettering seniors each year, with money raising projects being a candy sale, sponsored the Harlem Clowns and a concession stand during basketball season.

Kenny Prock, Frank Awbrey, and Glenn Legate, hard-working Lettermen, prepare for the half-time rush in the concession stand.

Librarians Enlighten Information-Seeking Student

Who says librarians are interested in the Dewey Decimal System only? Obviously, they also like Homecoming fun.

If a student needs help on a research paper or wants to know what an authority on basket weaving says, he knows the S.C. librarians will provide the necessary information.

"No book, no report card!" says Jennie Herrera jokingly as she stamps a book on intellectual growth for Glenn Legate, who assures her he'll return it on time.

Spanish Club Makes Triumphant-Return

Virginia Escalante, Minerva Ysaguirre, and Mr. Garcia prepare refreshments for the Spanish Club party.

Below, Charles Duron, Mr. Garcia, Advisor, and Reed Kempton make the required settings on the mimeographing machine, and Joe Saldivar makes the finishing touches on the sports page.

Ripping the front page stencil for the first issue, forgetting to re-cap the ink drum on the mimeographing machine and turning it on full blast, making a big blue splotch on the floor by dropping a bottle of correction fluid, eating barbecued chicken, hamburgers, doughnuts, bananas, and other weird combinations were among the unforgettable experiences of students striving for high journalistic standards in publishing the school newspaper, Devils' Call.

Although the publication of the Devils' Call was not offered as a class, this activity provided preparation for future journalists.

The Pep Squad gave the band support during football season by marching alongside at pre-game and half-time.

This pyramid formation is one of many which was used by the group to create beauty in rhythm and promote school spirit.

A black and white photograph showing the silhouettes of five students standing in a line in a school hallway. The students are facing right, and their shadows are cast onto the wall behind them. The hallway has lockers on the left and a doorway at the end. The title "School Life" is printed in a serif font in the upper right area of the image.

ity and infinite in quantity."

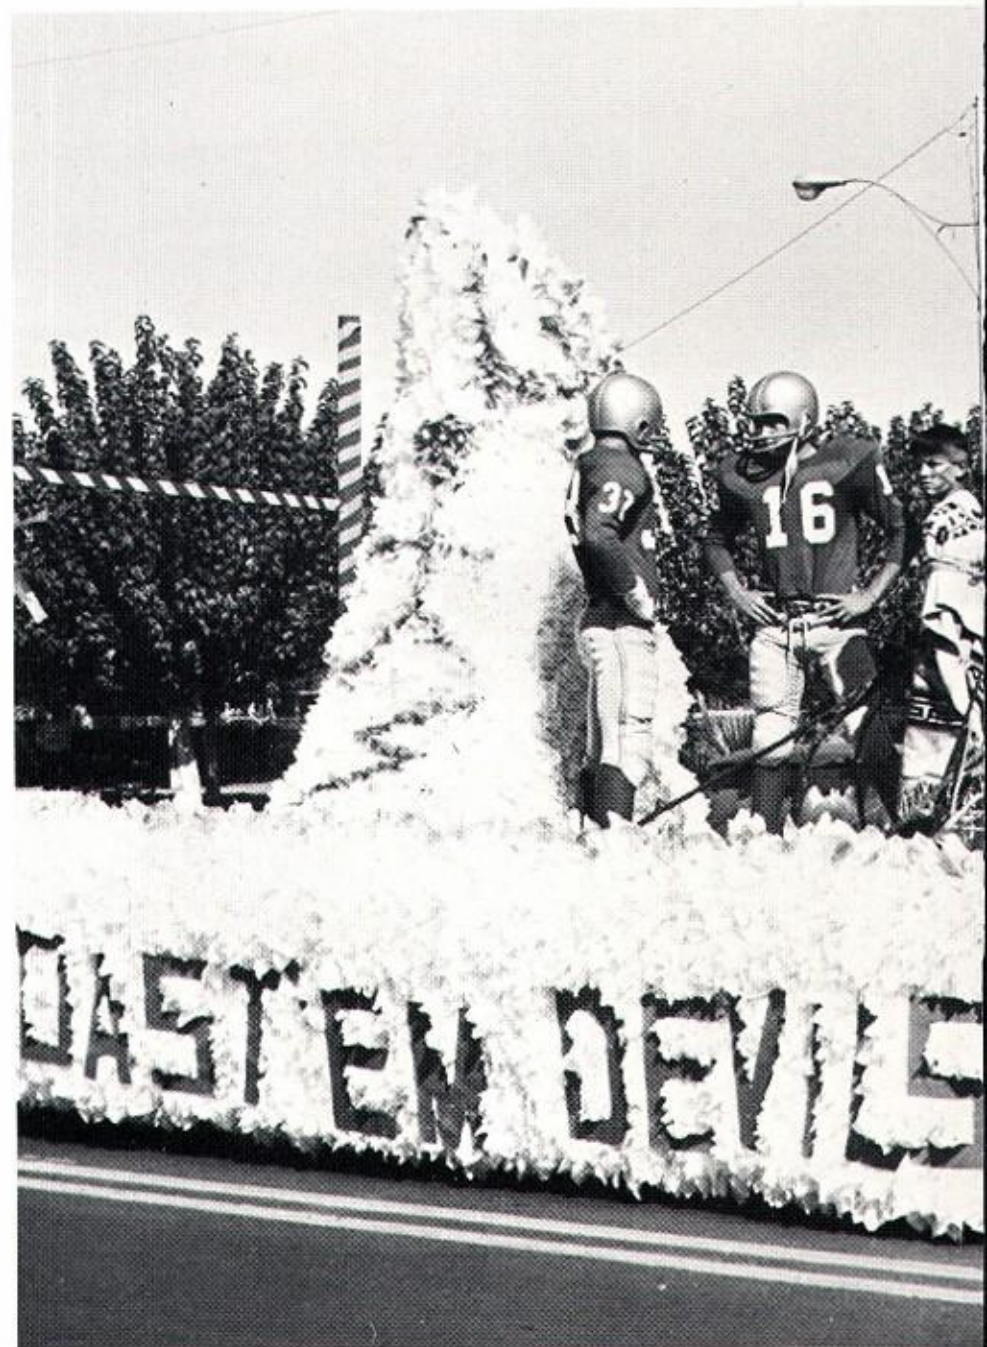

Apache Burns At

Coach Foster warms up the Apache effigy and—ZAP—it blazes away.

Lupe Rosales gives a devilish giggle while making Apaches shed tears on the senior float.

Sacrifice of sleep, staples in fingers and chicken-wire scratches, result in the Beauty award for the Frosh.

Energetic freshmen display their talents as the beautiful float molds into shape.

First Santa Cruz Bonfire

A special glow was given to Homecoming activities at S. C. this year with a bonfire, the first in its history. While the band and cheerleaders aroused enthusiasm, an effigy of an Apache warrior in the center of his wooden teepee was swallowed by the intensive flames.

During this hectic week, seven floats were molded into recognizable shapes. Despite the loss of sleep and bruised fingers from hammering, students felt justly rewarded when they viewed their handiwork on Main Street. Among those experiencing great satisfaction were the Juniors with their Sweepstakes award, the Freshmen with their Beauty award, and the Seniors with that of Originality.

Also included in the parade were the school band, pep squad, pom pon girls, cheerleaders, and the Homecoming Queen candidates.

Below: A roll of the drums and a clang of the cymbals give the cheerleaders the go signal.

With a savage grin, Emmet Nutter prepares to shoot an Apache on the Sophomore float.

Gloria Reigns At Homecoming Dance

Smiling with a special radiance, Gloria Montijo accepted the crown, rose bouquet, and all that accompanies the honor bestowed upon a Homecoming Queen. Equally joyous were her attendants Margaret Garcia, Lynette Wootan and Janice Waddle.

Alumni from as far back as 1950 attended the festivities. They renewed acquaintances with class mates and teachers from good old Santa Cruz. The last dance produced groans of reluctance for Homecoming had come to a close.

Below: Students and Alumni vacillate to the groovy din of "The Trains".

Student Body elections are held in a democratic manner. Steve Simpson, Student Body President makes sure the ballots are properly secured.

Sharon Meiner, Virginia Escalante, and Olga Jaquez get practical training in the office.

Below: New and old students get acquainted at the Back-to-School dance in the gymnasium.

Right: Frank Lopez, Mike Smith, Christina Ramirez and David Montijo ornament their hands with newly-arrived class rings. Having trouble, David?

With painful expressions, Janet Price and Flora Malone watch Mary Garcia grin and bear the skin test administered by a County Health Nurse.

GINGER CAROL (Jean Pretzer) Leading lady in "Time Out For Ginger"

A Junior-Class presentation, brought forth peals of laughter on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. In the 3-act comedy, Ginger Carol, daughter of an ultra-conservative banker, throws the town into complete chaos when she tries out for the high school football team, much to the disgust of her two sisters, her intellectual boy friend, the high school principal, and the school football hero.

"Jeannie, you're simply majestic!" exclaims Agnes as Ginger looks on approvingly.

Production Pleases Audience

"Eddie, what happened to your foot?" asks Joan. "I sprained it." moans Eddie, as he limps away.

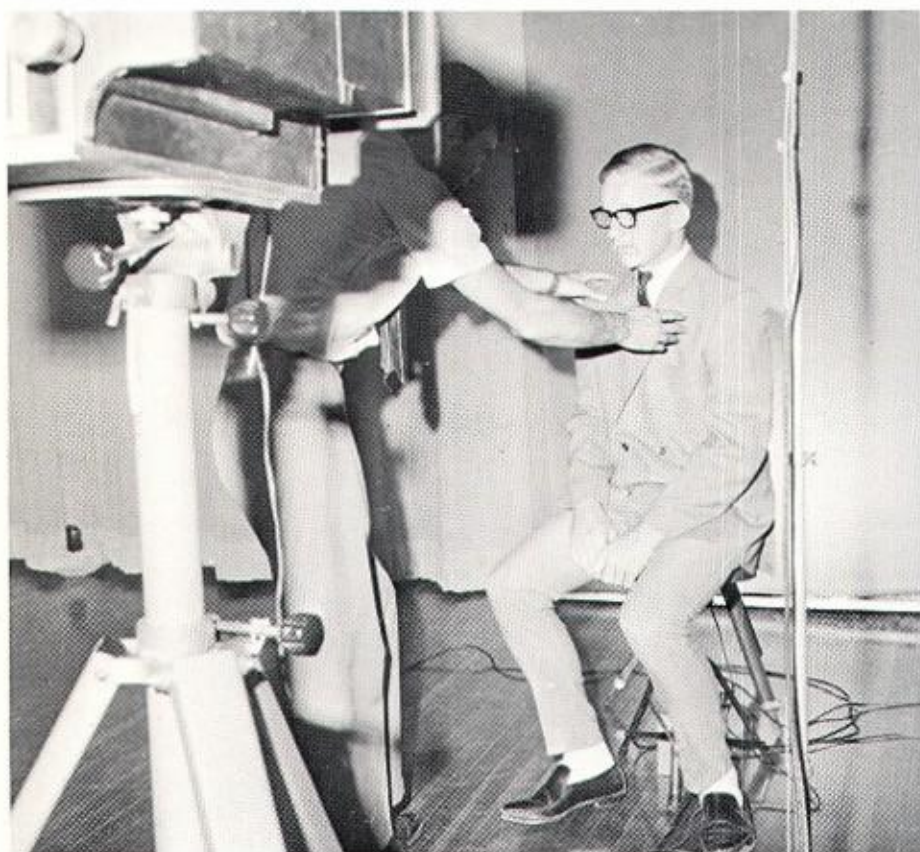

"Are you sure that punch didn't bruise your hand, Tom?" asks Eddie after a little scuffle.

"Look Howie, you can't let Virginia play football." pleads Mr. Wilson.

These Also Make A School

Chuck Wright "holds the pose" as 188 Juniors and Seniors did for their yearbook portrait.

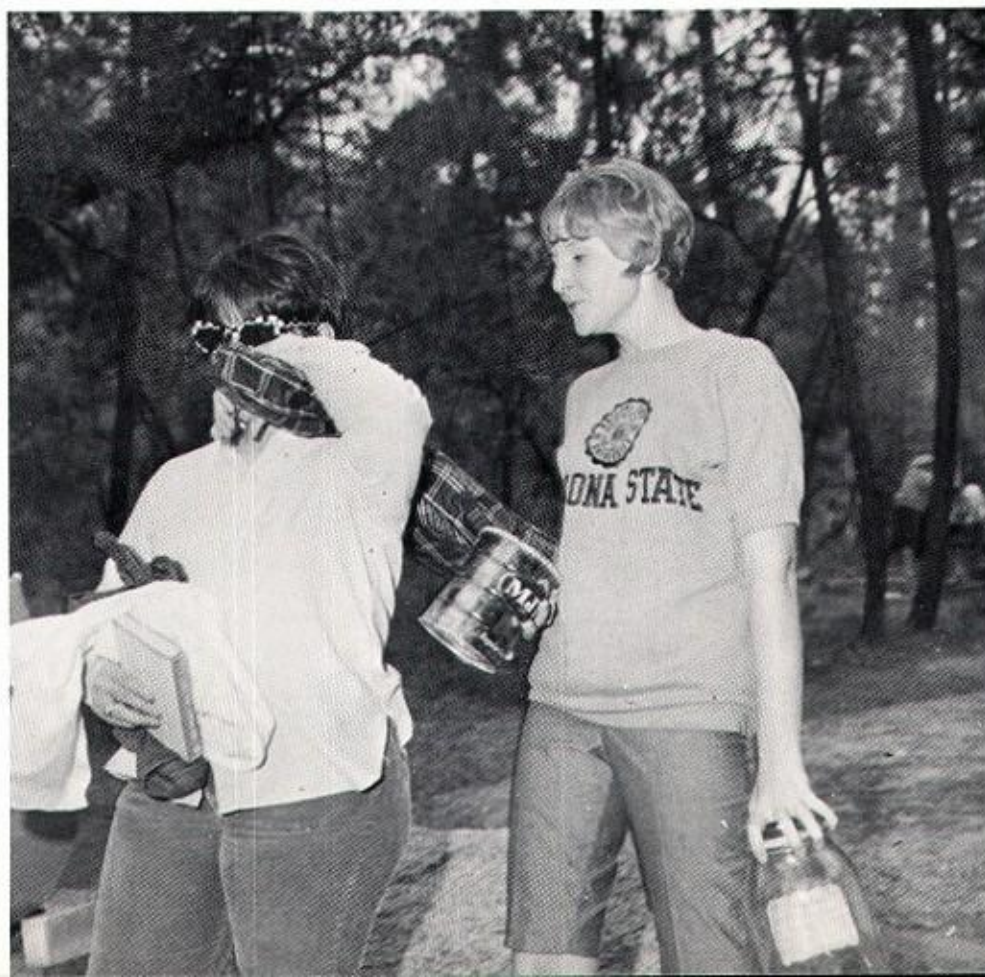

Good food and atmosphere at the cafeteria brings out the smiles.

Above: Seniors are dubious that their float will become a reality.

Right: Cathy Hawse and Debbi Hall enjoy a picnic at Mt. Lemon, Rain or Shine! !

Above: Students pay a dollar and await their turn to be photographed for an annual pose.

Student Life Outside Classes

Rainy days are an exciting part of school life, especially if a down pour comes just as school is dismissed.

Below: Mr. Universe, a true champion, hoists Bill Chesley high above his head.

Pep rallies are fun for all and give the student body an opportunity to encourage their teams to do their best.

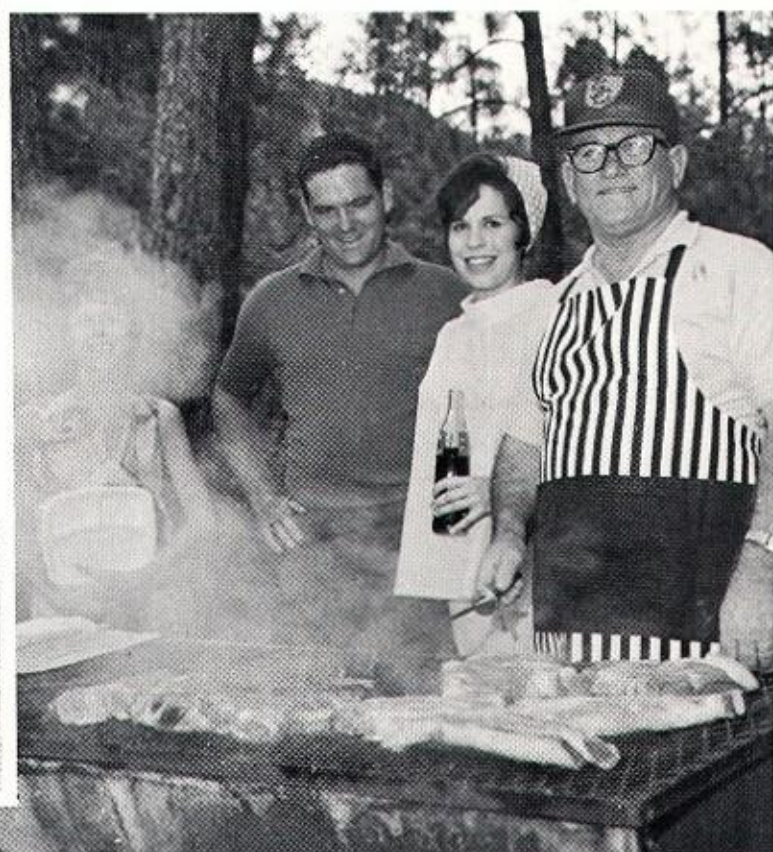

The new trend in study halls at Santa Cruz. We knew the class rooms were crowded, but after all girls.

Faculty Takes Break From Teaching

Below: Mr. Berryhill, Chief Cook at the faculty picnic, displays medium and well-done steaks to Mr. and Mrs. Atwood and Mrs. Snider who is behind the smoke screen.

Faculty members and families enjoy an outing at Mt. Lemon. Eating a picnic dinner is the big event of the day. The remainder of the day is spent hiking, pitching horseshoes and talking shop.

Mr. Atwood uses his ingenuity to help the freshmen boys build their float for the Homecoming parade.

Below: Those early morning faculty meetings are used to make future plans to improve the school, although in a relaxed atmosphere.

The Dust Devils of S.C.V.U.H.S. turned in a 13-11 record this year with wins over most of the top-rated teams in Class "A" basketball competition. The second half of the season had its obstacles, but with two important wins over Superior, the Devils won a berth in the District Tournament. Two hard-fought losses in this tournament sent the Devils home and ended the basketball season.

In many instances I have unsuccessfully searched the corners and crevices of my mind for words to convey a certain thought . . . so . . . I consulted a thesaurus and found it to be of great assistance. However, I know that if I were to search that reference book now, there would not be sufficient words to express my appreciation to Mr. Scott for his valuable advice, to Mr. Johnson and Mike McCoy for their superb photography.

Also to the staff: Carole Chesley, Gerald Degracia, Charles Duron, Debbi Hall, Cathy Hawse, Jim Huie, Reed Kempton, Gerry Lawson, Lynnis Lebbs, Sharon Meiner, Alec Ordway, Mona Pearce, Jean Pretzer, Steve Simpson, Connie Standridge, and Janice Waddle, for their creativeness. I simply say two little words which will never be trite, "Thank you." Here, then, in the 1968 Whirlwind, a year's events captured in pictures and words for future memories.

Karen,

To a real nice girl whom I've enjoyed having you in my classes this year. Good luck in the future.
